

Dear Editor

I have been reading the Texas Episcopalian and its forerunners for about 60 years with great interest. I recall the early days when Bishop Quinn published his travels for the month.

The-current-copy of Dialog is far superior to-any thing I have read previously and that includes many excellent ones. I am most grateful for the resources you have available to do such a polished publication.

At almost 90, I have for many years -enjoyed being a member of St. James' Church in Austin, likely the most intercultural parish in our Diocese. Your current issue of Dialog will be a fine encouragement to our church and an inspiration to all our congregations.

Congratulations and many thanks,

Sincerely,

The Rev. Ed Hartwell, St. James', Austin
